EXTENSION SCHOOLS

The Alberta Civil Defence School is located in the City of Edmonton, and candidates attend from the entire province. However, it has been discovered that many Civil Defence members are anxious to take part in the various courses. From left to right: The Hon. Gordon Taylor, Minister of Defence and Militia, and Minister of National Defence, The Hon. Marshall G. Gault, Minister of Civil Defence, and Mr. J. G. Gault, Director of Federal Civil Defence Transportation Committee.

Officials of the Department of Agriculture and nine members of the Military Forces who attended Radiation Monitoring Course No. 78 at the Alberta Civil Defence School from 4th to 8th February, 1957.

The Alberta Civil Defence Extension Rescue Course at Vulcan was attended by thirty-five representatives from municipalities in the Vulcan Civil Defence Unit and from "A" Company, Calgary Highlanders. This night exercise shows the removal of a casualty from the second story of a building. A large crowd of spectators gathered to observe despite the cold weather.

During the same night exercise a casualty was lowered from the roof of a garage. Note how the casualty is blanketed and lashed to the stretcher as a safety precaution.

Representatives from Municipalities in the Grande Prairie Civil Defence Unit and three members of the Alberta Civil Defence Extension School who attended an Extension Orientation Course at Grande Prairie from 18th to 22nd March, 1957. courses are prevented from doing so by their inability to leave their homes and businesses for any length of time. In view of this it was decided to take Extension Schools out to the municipalities, and to give the instruction in the evenings!

The first of these Extension Schools, which provided a course on Casualty Simulation, was held at Lethbridge from 28th January to 1st February. Eleven candidates took a full course of instruction, and 41 graduate and student nurses at the Lethbridge Municipal Hospital attended shorter sessions.

The second School was a Civil Defence Rescue Course held at Vulcan, from 4th to 22nd March, for thirty Civil Defence members from Arrowwood, Carmangay, Vulcan, Champion and Milo, and fifteen members of the local Militia Regiment, The Calgary Highlanders. Western Command continued to co-operate most fully with A.C.D.H.Q. by providing an additional rescue instructor and also by making the Vulcan Armouries available for use as class-rooms.

The fact that some candidates travelled 88 miles daily to attend the course shows the interest that was taken.

Present for the closing of the Rescue Course at Vulcan were the Minister of Civil Defence and the Provincial Co-ordinator. Photographs of the final exercise are published in this issue.

The third Alberta Civil Defence Extension School was held at Grande Prairie, 18th to 22nd March, when an Orientation Course was officially opened by Mayor R.M. Millar and Col. A. J. Lavoie, Assistant to the Provincial Co-ordinator. Forty-one candidates, from Grande Prairie, Hythe, Beaverlodge, Sexsmith, Wembley and Teepee Creek, attended. The course was conducted by instructors from A.C.D.H.Q.

At the completion of these courses certificates and C.D. badges were presented to the candidates.

GENERAL HATTON VISITS A.C.D.H.Q.

On 26th March, Major-General G. S. Hatton, Deputy Federal Civil Defence Co-ordinator, visited Edmonton on a coast to coast tour of Civil Defence units. At a press conference held at A.C.D.H.Q., General Hatton stressed the need for residents of smaller towns and rural areas to become aware of their responsibilities in case of attack. Commenting on the Evacuation Plan, the Deputy Federal Co-ordinator said the best way to escape an atomic attack is to be away from it. He also said that while there is no need for panic, the danger of public apathy is always present.

THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

The history of the United States is a story of growth and change. From the first settlers to the present day, the nation has evolved through various stages of development. The early years were marked by exploration and settlement, followed by a period of rapid expansion and industrialization. The American Revolution and the Civil War were pivotal moments in the nation's history, shaping its identity and values. The 20th century brought significant challenges, including the Great Depression and World War II, which tested the nation's resilience and led to the emergence of the United States as a global superpower. Today, the United States continues to face new challenges and opportunities, and its history remains a source of inspiration and guidance for the future.

THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION

The American Revolution was a period of significant change and transformation for the young nation. It began with the Declaration of Independence in 1776, which declared the colonies' independence from Great Britain. The revolution was fought over the next several years, with the British ultimately defeated at the Battle of Yorktown in 1781. The new nation was established as a constitutional republic, with a system of checks and balances designed to prevent the concentration of power in any one branch of government. The revolution also led to the adoption of the Bill of Rights, which guaranteed the fundamental rights and freedoms of the citizens. The American Revolution was a defining moment in the nation's history, and its legacy continues to shape the United States today.

THE CIVIL WAR

The Civil War was a period of intense conflict and division in the United States. It was fought between the Union and the Confederacy over the issue of slavery. The war began in 1861 and ended in 1865, with the Union emerging as the victor. The Civil War was a defining moment in the nation's history, and it led to the abolition of slavery and the establishment of a more unified and democratic nation. The war also had a profound impact on the social and economic structure of the United States, and its legacy continues to be felt today.
